

Profound thanks to the series participants –

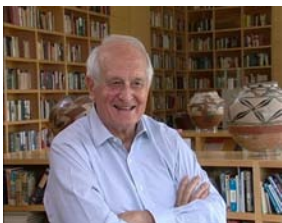

Sydnia Crosbie, Board president and a founder of the Austin Farmer’s Market. Board Member, Greenlights for Nonprofit Success, People’s Community Clinic, Sustainable Food Center, Young Women’s Alliance; also Chair of the People4People corporate games benefiting People’s Community Clinic.

AMOA/Austin Museum of Art Board President Bettye Nowlin also currently/recently serves on the Boards of Austin Community Foundation, Greenlights for Nonprofit Success, KLRU-TV/Capital of Texas Public Communications Council, and People’s Community Clinic.

Board President of Austin Film Society and co-founder of the Texas Film Hall of Fame, Evan Smith has served an array of Boards and their development campaigns including American Society of Managing Editors, Ballet Austin, Burnt Orange Productions, Headliners Club, Jack S. Blanton Museum of Art, KLRU-TV Capital of Texas Public Communications Council, Planned Parenthood, and Trinity Episcopal School. Mr. Smith’s “day job” is Editor, Texas Monthly.

The former Headmaster of St. Mark’s School of Texas (Dallas), Catlin Gable School (Portland), and University Liggett School (Grosse Pointe Woods), Ted Whatley has hired and mentored a host of development professionals who today consult or head foundations and schools across the nation. A two-term Austin Independent School District Trustee, Ted’s current/recent Board/Development Committee resume includes Austin Children’s Museum, Austin Family House, People’s Community Clinic, Harry Ransom Humanities Research Center/ University of Texas, St. James’ Episcopal Church Capital Campaign, and chair of the Development Committee of Breakthrough.